Secrets from the Set: Brad and Cate Share Hair Care!

Nice to know that new dad Brad Pitt's not too macho to share his Kenra hair products with female co-star Cate Blanchett. While shooting The Curious Case of Benjamin Button, "Brad loved the Platinum Silkening Mist, $15" says the movie's hairstylist Colleen Balaghan, who used the same product on his bewigged co-star (her character is a redhead in the film). "I also used the Kenra Daily Provision Leave-In Conditioner, $12, on both Cate and Brad. Whether we are styling their real hair, or their wigs, they both need a light conditioner that will last and keep their hair smooth throughout filming." Now, we want to know if he brought it home for the whole family!

Finally some hair products that the stars use that isn't over a hundred dollars.

I use these Kenra products and love them as well. This is the platinum line and it rocks. I am so pleased to know that Brad used this. There shampoo and conditioners are also the best I have used because it is specifically for color treated hair and it doesn't strip the hair of the color it maintains it.
